

Fitness App for Busy Office Professionals

UX Research & User Understanding

sara maher

Problem Statement

Busy office professionals often struggle to maintain a healthy lifestyle due to long working hours, work-related stress, and limited time for exercise. Existing fitness solutions can be complex, time-consuming, or difficult to maintain consistently. There is a need for a simple, accessible, and motivating fitness experience that fits into their daily routines.

Target audience

Target Audience

Primary Users

Busy office professionals who struggle to maintain a healthy lifestyle because of their tight schedules and work pressure.

User Characteristics

- Age: 23–40 years old
- Full-time employees
- Spend long hours sitting
- Limited time for exercise
- Interested in health and fitness
- Prefer quick and simple solutions

Common Problems

- Lack of time
- Low motivation
- Work stress
- Difficulty maintaining a routine
- Gym memberships are expensive or inconvenient

Persona1

Persona Information

Omar Khaled

Software Engineer

- Age: 33
- Status: Single
- Lives in a Cairo, Egypt
- Lifestyle: Busy office professional with long working hours

Goals

- Stay fit and healthy
- Reduce stress from work
- Exercise regularly without going to the gym
- Improve energy and focus during the day

Motivations

- Fear of health issues due to long sitting hours
- Desire for a better body and higher confidence
- Seeing fit and active people on social media
- Wanting more energy and focus at work
- Feeling the need to "start now" before it gets worse

Pains / Frustrations

- Lack of time for workouts
- Feeling exhausted after work
- Losing motivation quickly
- Difficulty staying consistent
- Fitness apps are too complex
- Boredom with long workout routines

Behaviours

- Spends long hours working on a laptop
- Starts workouts but stops after a few days
- Tries fitness apps occasionally
- Watches short workout videos on YouTube
- Prefers quick and simple solutions
- Works under constant pressure and deadlines

"I want a simple fitness routine that fits into my busy schedule."

Persona2

Persona Information

Mona Abdelrahman

Working Mother

- Age:29
- Marketing Specialist
- Married, Mother of two children
- Lifestyle: Busy and fast-paced

Goals

- Stay healthy and fit
- Lose weight gradually
- Exercise without going to the gym
- Build a consistent workout habit

Motivations

- Desire to feel confident in her appearance
- Stress from long working hours and sedentary lifestyle
- Seeing fitness trends and motivation on social media
- Wanting better physical and mental health
- Fear of gaining weight or losing fitness over time

Pains / Frustrations

- Feels too tired after work
- Doesn't have enough free time
- Gets bored from long workout programs
- Existing fitness apps are complicated

Behaviours

- Works long hours at a desk job
- Skips workouts frequently
- Tries fitness apps but stops after a short time
- Watches short workout videos online
- Prefers quick and easy solutions
- Often postpones starting a fitness routine

"I keep telling myself I'll start tomorrow, but I just need something simple enough to start today."

Empathy map

Empathy Map

SAY

FEEL

PAIN

THINKS

DO

GAIN

Wants to find a quick and easy workout routine that fits into his busy schedule.

Feels overwhelmed and stressed due to long working hours.

Struggles to find time for exercise.

Feels bored and unmotivated by complex fitness apps.

Thinks that a simple and effective fitness app would be helpful.

Believes that a quick and easy routine would be more sustainable.

Wonders if there are any apps that can provide personalized workouts.

Thinks that a fitness app with reminders and progress tracking would be useful.

Says "I need a simple fitness routine that fits into my busy schedule."

Feels "I'm too tired after work to exercise."

Thinks "I don't have enough free time for a workout."

Says "I want to lose weight but I don't know how to start."

Does "Watches short workout videos on YouTube."

Does "Tries fitness apps occasionally but stops after a few days."

Does "Spends long hours working on a laptop."

Does "Works under constant pressure and deadlines."

Wants to gain "A simple and effective fitness routine that fits into his busy schedule."

Wants to gain "A quick and easy workout routine that fits into his busy schedule."

Wants to gain "A fitness app with reminders and progress tracking."

Wants to gain "A personalized workout routine that fits his needs."

Key Insights

User Needs

- Short and effective workouts
- Easy-to-follow fitness plans
- Home-based exercise options
- Daily reminders and motivation
- Progress tracking and goal setting